I see robots everywhere

Javier Arcos Pitarque
Advertising creative
Lecturer at the Universidad Autónoma
Universidad Complutense masters in Madrid, Spain.
E-mail: rpitarque.robots@gmail.com

I've liked robots ever since I was small. I think that this liking came from a series I used to watch on television called Lost in Space. The character called Will Robinson had a robot friend. Now, having collected tin robots, I've started making them myself.